Indonesian language / Countries and Accounting Standards

Indonesian language / Countries and Accounting Standards

Currently, the Indonesian language (Bahasa Indonesia) is primarily utilized as the official professional and formal accounting language in Indonesia. While it serves as a "working language" in other regions, its status as the legal and formal standard for financial reporting is unique to the Indonesian jurisdiction.

Below are the details regarding the countries, codes, and applicable accounting standards.

Primary Jurisdictions

Country	Language–Country Code	Official Status	Applicable Accounting Standards
Indonesia	id-ID	Official	SAK (Standar Akuntansi Keuangan). This includes PSAK (converged with IFRS), SAK EP (Private Entities), SAK Syariah, and SAK EMKM.
Timor-Leste (East Timor)	id-TL (Working)	Working Language	IFRS (International Financial Reporting Standards). Note: While Indonesian is widely used in business, the formal legal language for standards is Portuguese (pt-TL).

Detailed Accounting Frameworks

1. Indonesia (id-ID)

The accounting landscape in Indonesia is governed by the Institute of Indonesia Chartered Accountants (Ikatan Akuntan Indonesia – IAI).⁴ The development of Indonesian accounting has been characterized by a "full convergence" roadmap with IFRS.

- SAK Internasional: Fully adopts IFRS; intended for entities with high international exposure.⁶
- SAK Indonesia (PSAK/ISAK): The main pillar, substantially converged with IFRS, used by listed companies and entities with significant public accountability.⁷
- SAK EP (Entitas Privat): Replaced SAK ETAP on January 1, 2025.⁸ It is based on the IFRS for SMEs.
- SAK EMKM: A simplified standard for Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises.
- SAK Syariah: Specialized standards for Sharia-compliant transactions and institutions.

2. Timor-Leste (id-TL)

In Timor-Leste, Indonesian is recognized by the Constitution as a "working language" alongside English.¹² Because a significant portion of the business community was educated under the Indonesian system (pre-1999), financial records are often maintained in Indonesian for internal or B2B purposes.

- Standard: The country generally permits or requires IFRS for large entities (like the Petroleum Fund).¹³
- Localization Note: While you may use id-TL for software localization, formal government filings and tax documents are increasingly required in Portuguese or Tetum.

Localization Considerations

For your localization project (specifically regarding your Types table and language files), keep in mind:

- Terminology Differences: Even though Indonesian and Malay (ms-MY) are linguistically related, their accounting terminology is distinct. For example, "Accounting" is Akuntansi in Indonesia but Perakaunan in Malaysia.
- Currency: Always map id-ID to IDR (Rupiah). For id-TL, the official currency is the USD (US Dollar), though centavo coins are used for fractional amounts.
- Document Types: In Indonesia, formal document types often include NPWP (Tax ID), NIB (Business ID), and Faktur Pajak (Tax Invoice). If these types change in your database, ensure the id-ID language file reflects the specific Indonesian legal terms rather than a generic translation.

Tax landscape - Indonesian languages

Tax landscape - Indonesian languages

As of January 2026, the tax landscape for the countries using the Indonesian language (officially or as a working language) is as follows:

1. Indonesia (id-ID)

Indonesia uses a Value Added Tax (VAT) known locally as PPN (Pajak Pertambahan Nilai).

Tax Type	Rate	Notes
Standard VAT (PPN)	12%	Officially increased from 11% to 12% on January 1, 2025, as mandated by the Harmonization of Tax Regulations Law (UU HPP).
Effective VAT	11%	Due to specific government regulations (such as PMK-11 of 2025), many general goods and services use a "special tax base" calculation that results in an effective rate of 11% to protect consumer purchasing power.

Luxury Goods (PPnBM)	10% - 95%	In addition to VAT, luxury items (cars, high-end real estate) incur this additional sales tax.
Exports	0%	Exports of taxable goods and certain services are zero-rated.

Accounting Note: When updating your language files or "Types table," ensure your system supports the 12% statutory rate but allows for effective rate adjustments, as the Indonesian tax office (DJP) often uses the "DPP Nilai Lain" (Other Tax Base) mechanism for specific industries.

2. Timor-Leste (id-TL)

Timor-Leste currently does not have a VAT system. Instead, it relies on Sales Tax and Service Tax.

Tax Type	Rate	Notes
Sales Tax (Imports)	2.5%	Applied to the "customs value" of taxable goods imported into the country.
Sales Tax (Domestic)	0%	Sales of goods and services within the country are currently subject to a 0% sales tax rate.
Service Tax	5%	Applied only to specific sectors: Hotels, Restaurants/Bars, and Telecommunications (if monthly turnover > USD 500).

Localization Note: For id-TL, your accounting software should be configured for Sales Tax logic rather than the Input/Output VAT credit system used in Indonesia. Also, remember that the official currency for tax reporting in Timor-Leste is the USD.

Summary Table for Localization

Country	Code	Primary Tax Name	Standard Rate	Currency
Indonesia	id-ID	PPN	12% (Effective 11%)	IDR (Rp)
Timor-Leste	id-TL	Sales Tax	2.5% (Imports only)	USD ($)

How to Translate and Localize the "CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS" Template

Follow these steps to translate and customize a Set of Books based on a "CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS" template into your preferred language:

1. Download a Template: In the Creation Wizard, select the 'Let osFinancials help you create a Set of Books' option. Then, choose the 'Online' (Download) option and download the appropriate "CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS" template for your needs:

- CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS-3X3-DIGITS
- CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS-4X3-DIGITS
- CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS-5X3-DIGITS
- CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS-6X3-DIGITS
- CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS-7X3-DIGITS
- CUSTOMISE-EMPTY-BOOKS-8X3-DIGITS

2. Name and Save: On the 'Save as' screen, enter a unique name for your new Set of Books and click Save. The new file will open automatically.
3. Switch the Interface Language: The default language is English. To change it, go to the 'Start' ribbon and select 'Switch language'. After selecting your preferred language, the osFinancials/TurboCASH interface will display in that language whenever you open this Set of Books.

Important Note on Plugins: After switching the language, the plugins on the Setup ribbon may not immediately display in your selected language. To refresh the interface and load the correct plugin translations, go to Tools -> Activate plugins and then simply close the activation screen.

4. Customize and Translate Content: Perform these basic translations within your new Set of Books:
 - Document Types: Go to Tools Customize language on the Setup ribbon. In the 'Types' tab, translate the English document type descriptions (e.g., "Invoice," "Credit Note," "Quote," "Purchase," "Supplier Return," "Order") into your selected language.
 - Reporting Groups: Navigate to Setup Groups on the Setup ribbon. Update the descriptions for the reporting groups (e.g., change "Account group1 / Account group2" to your language's equivalent).
 - Control Accounts: In Setup Accounts on the Setup ribbon, translate the names of the three control accounts: "Debtors control," "Creditors control," and "Retained earnings."
5. Your basic Set of Books is now customized and translated. You can now proceed with other tasks, such as creating or importing your General ledgers accounts, Debtor accounts, Creditor accounts and Stock items.

Language Master Files

Instructions for locating, customizing, and contributing language files for osFinancials and TurboCASH.

File Location and Handling

All language files are stored in the `.../bin/languages` folder within your installation directory.

Important Warning: Any direct changes made to the installed language master files will be overwritten and lost when you install, reinstall, or update osFinancials or TurboCASH.

Customizing a Language File Manually

To create a custom localization for your country, industry, or specific requirements, you must work from a copy:

1. Locate the File: Go to the `.../bin/languages` folder.
2. Select a Base: Choose the installed language master file that is closest to your requirements (e.g., `English.dfm`).
3. Create a Copy: Create a copy of the selected file.
4. Rename: Rename the copied file to reflect your specific requirements (e.g., `English-MyCompany.dfm`).
5. Access the Customization Tool: Restart osFinancials/TurboCASH. Navigate to Tools Customise language. Your new custom file will now appear in the list, ready to be selected and edited using the built-in UI editor.

Added Language file – Batch => Journal for option and translation confusion

English-journal-dfm

To avoid translation inconsistencies caused by the term “Batch”, particularly where it overlaps with stock or inventory processes, all relevant labels in the English.dfm language files have been updated to use “Journal” terminology instead.

This change ensures clarity in financial contexts, as the term “Journal” more accurately reflects the intended accounting functionality. For translation purposes, all references to “Batch” relating to financial processing (e.g., “Batch Type,” “Batch Posting”) have been replaced with “Journal” equivalents (e.g., “Journal Type,” “Journal Posting”).

Instruction for Translators and Localization Teams:

- In all financial or bookkeeping contexts (e.g. batch posting, batch type), translate the term “Journal” (not “Batch”) into the target language.
- Avoid translations of “Batch” that imply inventory, warehousing, or logistics, unless clearly used in those contexts.

- The term “Journaltyp” (German), for example, is preferred over “Stapelart” .

This convention ensures clarity for accountants and bookkeepers using localized versions of osFinancials or TurboCASH.

Reverted TurboCASH5-3 to <@APPNAME@> dynamic placeholder

The dynamic placeholder <@APPNAME@> was replaced in the language files in the downloaded TurboCASH5-3 (Release Candidate-9).

Explanation of why the dynamic placeholder <@APPNAME@> is being reinstated in the language files and scheduled for TurboCASH5-3 (Release Candidate-10).

Summary of the Change

The core reason for reverting to the <@APPNAME@> dynamic placeholder is to maintain a single set of language files shared by both TurboCASH and osFinancials.

The placeholder dynamically retrieves the application name (e.g., TurboCASH5-3 or osFinancials) from the respective configuration file (tcash.ini or osf.ini), ensuring consistency and reducing maintenance overhead across multiple products and languages.

Key Implications

- Shared Source & Single Maintenance: Since osFinancials and TurboCASH share the same source code, a single set of language files is crucial for efficiency. Manually changing the application name in all 45 labels and language files was unsustainable.
- Dynamic AppName Configuration: The placeholder is populated from the [APPConfig] section in the INI files (e.g.,AppName=TurboCASH5-3 in tcash.ini).
- Future-Proofing: Reinstating the placeholder means that when a new generation or version of TurboCASH is compiled, the application name will be updated automatically via the tcash.ini or osf.ini file, eliminating the need for manual translation/editing of the language file labels every time.

- Override and Reversion: Any future updates to the central language files and translations will now correctly override the manual edits and revert back to the <@APPNAME@> placeholder, ensuring all versions use the dynamic name.
- The time spent on replacing TurboCASH5-3 with the Dynamic placeholder `<@APPNAME@>: This could implicate using outdated language files losing changes to latest updated language files.

The provided table clearly illustrates the labels that have been reverted from the hardcoded TurboCASH5-3 back to the dynamic placeholder <@APPNAME@>. This action standardizes the localization process.

Language Master Files - Customise/Localise own Language files

Language Master Files

Instructions for locating, customizing, and contributing language files for osFinancials and TurboCASH.

File Location and Handling

All language files are stored in the .../bin/languages folder within your installation directory.

Important Warning: Any direct changes made to the installed language master files will be overwritten and lost when you install, reinstall, or update osFinancials or TurboCASH.

Customizing a Language File Manually

To create a custom localization for your country, industry, or specific requirements, you must work from a copy:

1. Locate the File: Go to the .../bin/languages folder.
2. Select a Base: Choose the installed language master file that is closest to your requirements (e.g., English.dfm).
3. Create a Copy: Create a copy of the selected file.
4. Rename: Rename the copied file to reflect your specific requirements (e.g., English-MyCompany.dfm).
5. Access the Customization Tool: Restart osFinancials/TurboCASH. Navigate to Tools Customise language. Your new custom file will now appear in the list, ready to be selected and edited using the built-in UI editor.

Creating a Custom Language File via osFinancials/TurboCASH interface

You can create a copy of an existing language file directly within the osFinancials/TurboCASH interface, which is a convenient alternative to manually copying files in the installation folder.

Steps to Customize Your Language

1. Navigate to Tools Customise language.
2. The current language's file name will be displayed in the 'Select Language:' field.
3. Ensure this is the language you want to use as your base.
4. In the field immediately before the Create button, enter a name for your new, custom language file (e.g., English-MyCompany).
5. Click Create.
6. Your new language file name will now be displayed in the 'Select Language:' field. This file is an exact copy of the original base language.
7. You are now ready to customize your language file through the UI editor.

Customization of Label 1000000

The label in every language file (Label 1000000) is a special identifier used to define the file's locale and customization status.

Dynamic placeholder <@APPNAME@> - Reinstated in 45 language labels

Dynamic placeholder <@APPNAME@> - Reinstated in 45 language labels

This is a clear and well-documented explanation of why the dynamic placeholder <@APPNAME@> is being reinstated in all the language files (including French, etc.) for TurboCASH5-3 (Release Candidate-9).

Summary of the Change

The core reason for reverting to the <@APPNAME@> dynamic placeholder is to maintain a single set of language files shared by both TurboCASH and osFinancials.

The placeholder dynamically retrieves the application name (e.g., TurboCASH5-3 or osFinancials) from the respective configuration file (tcash.ini or osf.ini), ensuring consistency and reducing maintenance overhead across multiple products and languages.

Key Implications

- Shared Source & Single Maintenance: Since osFinancials and TurboCASH share the same source code, a single set of language files is crucial for efficiency. Manually changing the application name in all 45 labels and language files was unsustainable.
- Dynamic AppName Configuration: The placeholder is populated from the [APPConfig] section in the INI files (e.g.,AppName=TurboCASH5-3 in tcash.ini).
- Future-Proofing: Reinstating the placeholder means that when a new generation or version of TurboCASH is compiled, the application name will be updated automatically via the INI file, eliminating the need for manual translation/editing of the language file labels every time.
- Override and Reversion: Any future updates to the central language files and translations will now correctly override the manual edits and revert back to the <@APPNAME@> placeholder, ensuring all versions use the dynamic name.

The provided table clearly illustrates the labels that have been reverted from the hard-coded TurboCASH5-3 back to the dynamic placeholder <@APPNAME@>. This action standardizes the localization process.

Modernizing user interface messages

Modernizing the user interface messages and improving clarity for translations

The proposed changes are a standard and highly recommended best practice in UI/UX writing for several reasons:

- Clarity for the User: Highlighting action elements (like buttons) and navigation paths makes them immediately recognizable within a block of instructional text.
- Accuracy for Translators: Using consistent delimiters (like square brackets []) or single quotes '' with an arrow → gives translators a clear signal that the text inside is a UI element (like a button name, a menu item, or a path) that should either not be translated or should be handled with extreme care to match the actual element in the target language's UI.
- Modern UI Standard: This style aligns with modern software documentation and in-app messaging conventions.

Modernised Buttons in UI

Enclose button names in square brackets [](within message translations) is a great choice. It sets a clear, bold boundary around the actionable text.

Modernised Paths in UI

The use single quotes and the right-facing arrow ('Setup → Documents setup') for navigation paths (within message translations) is also highly effective. The arrow is much more intuitive than the old -> ASCII arrow.

Added Language file – Batch => Journal for option and translation confusion

Added Language file – Batch => Journal for option and translation confusion

Purpose of the new English-journal.dfm language file

English-journal.dfm serves a dual role:

- User Preference/Customization: It allows users who prefer the terminology "Journal" over "Batch" in their user interface (UI) to select this file, and provides a base for them to customize their own language file.
- Translation Clarity: It aids translators by resolving the confusion that arises when the word "Batch" is misinterpreted (specifically, differentiating between a Stock/Inventory Batch/Lot and an Accounting/Journal Batch).

Using a separate file with the clarified terminology is an excellent localization strategy.

English-journal-dfm

To avoid translation inconsistencies caused by the term "Batch", particularly where it overlaps with stock or inventory processes, all relevant labels in the English.dfm language files have been updated to use "Journal" terminology instead.

This change ensures clarity in financial contexts, as the term "Journal" more accurately reflects the intended accounting functionality. For translation purposes, all references to "Batch" relating to financial processing (e.g., "Batch Type," "Batch Posting") have been replaced with "Journal" equivalents (e.g., "Journal Type," "Journal Posting").

Instruction for Translators and Localization Teams:

- In all financial or bookkeeping contexts (e.g. batch posting, batch type), translate the term “Journal” (not “Batch”) into the target language.
- Avoid translations of “Batch” that imply inventory, warehousing, or logistics, unless clearly used in those contexts.
- The term “Journaltyp” (German), for example, is preferred over “Stapelart”.

This convention ensures clarity for accountants and bookkeepers using localized versions of osFinancials or TurboCASH.

Batch localization for Stock/Inventory

These instructions apply to the localization of terms related to managing Stock/Inventory batches (not accounting/journal batches), specifically for the Location-Serials-Batches plugin.

When translating the terms below, ensure the context is strictly focused on Stock/Inventory (product groups, movement, or storage) and not on financial/journal entries.

Relevant Labels

Label ID	English Source	Localization Context
3398	Location-Serials-Batches	Plugin Name (Retain as is)
3683	Batch	Stock/Inventory batch
906554	Outdated batch	Stock/Inventory batch
906555	Batch bought from supplier	Stock/Inventory batch
906556	Batch sold to customer	Stock/Inventory batch

NOTE : When modifying the translations in the default language file (English.dfm), special attention is required to ensure the context of Stock/Inventory is consistently maintained for all related terms.

Certainly. I have reviewed and translated the following 190 entries (IDs 20000– 20133 and 21000– 22440) to ensure they are accurately localized for the Indonesian (id-ID) market.

I have applied Sentence case, ensured no text is truncated with ellipses (unless present in the source), and aimed to match string lengths to accommodate UI constraints.

Indonesian Reviews/Corrections

Translation for Language Files Locale ISO codes for

Language and Country

To translate this technical string for your language files, the identity of the file (the language name) should be updated to reflect the target locale.

Here are the translations for Indonesia (id-ID) and Timor-Leste (id-TL):

Locale	Translated String
id-ID	1000000 File Master Bahasa Indonesia untuk Indonesia (id-ID) - Jangan diterjemahkan. Untuk menyesuaikan file bahasa ini, buatlah salinan.
id-TL	1000000 File Master Bahasa Indonesia untuk Timor-Leste (id-TL) - Jangan

diterjemahkan. Untuk menyesuaikan file bahasa ini, buatlah salinan.

Key Terminology Used:

- File Master / Berkas Induk: In Indonesian software localization, "File Master" is commonly used and understood. "Berkas Induk" is the more formal linguistic equivalent. I have used "File Master" above as it is standard in technical environments.
- Jangan diterjemahkan: This is the direct and formal translation of "Não traduzir" (Do not translate).
- Menyesuaikan: The best fit for "Personalizar" (to customize) in this context.
- Salinan: The standard term for "Cópia" (copy).

Reminder on User Instructions:

Since you are updating your language files, please remember your rule from 2025-08-07: If you have recently changed any document types in your 'Types table' (e.g., changing from a Portuguese VAT type to an Indonesian PPN type), ensure you review and update those specific strings within these new `id-ID` and `id-TL` files as well.

Translation for Language Files

In Indonesian (used for both the `id-ID` and `id-TL` locales), the term "Working Language" is formally translated as "Bahasa Kerja".

Locale	Translated Label
<code>id-ID</code> (Indonesian)	Timor-Leste (Timor Timur) id-TL (Bahasa Kerja)
<code>id-TL</code> (Timor-Leste)	Timor-Leste (Timor Timur) id-TL (Bahasa Kerja)

Here is the translation of that label for your language files. In Indonesian (used for both the `id-ID` and `id-TL` locales), the term "Working Language" is formally translated as "Bahasa Kerja".

Terminology Notes for your Localization

- Timor-Leste vs. Timor Timur: While "Timor-Leste" is the official international and diplomatic name used in Indonesia today, "Timor Timur" is the specific Indonesian language translation for "East Timor." Including both (as you did in English/Portuguese) ensures maximum clarity for users.
- Bahasa Kerja: This is the standard term used in the Timor-Leste Constitution (Section 159) to describe the status of Indonesian and English.
- Consistency Check: Since you mentioned in your instructions to review document types when the Types table changes, please ensure that if you are using `id-TL`, your document names reflect the local tax system (e.g., "Pajak Penjualan" instead of "PPN").

ID 581 Translator / Contributions / Acknowledgment

In the context of credits acknowledgement or a "Translated by" section, the translation should be professional but inviting.

Since the English source starts with an asterisk * and appears to be an instruction for the translator to provide their name or info, I have maintained the instruction-style phrasing. I have also used "anda" in lowercase and "rincian" (details/particulars) which is more formal than "detail" in Indonesian.

ID	Indonesia original	English source	Indonesia corrected	Notes/Rationale
581	Masukkan detail Anda	*Translate : Enter your details	*Terjemahan: Masukkan rincian anda	Changed. Used "rincian" for a more professional tone and corrected "anda" to lowercase. Kept the instruction prefix as per the source.

Terminology Note:

In Indonesian software, "Rincian" is the preferred formal term for "Details." Using the asterisk and "Terjemahan:" (Translation:) clarifies that this is the specific field where the translator's credit or details should be entered.

Technical for Database table names Back-end for Advanced users

Technical for Database table names Back-end for Advanced users

I have updated the translations for these technical IDs. As per your instructions, I have retained the database table names (such as Sysvars, BatCon, Dochead, and Transact) to ensure advanced users can reference them accurately and to maintain UI length constraints.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
903156	Bersihkan parameter variabel sistem	Clear Sysvars parameters	Bersihkan parameter Sysvars	Retained "Sysvars" as a database reference for advanced users.
903158	Hapus BatCon yang tidak ada dalam transaksi	Remove BatCon not in Transact	Hapus BatCon yang tidak ada di Transact	Retained "BatCon" and "Transact" as table references.
903146	Atur transaksi tahun sebelumnya	Set Transact previous years	Atur Transact tahun sebelumnya	Retained "Transact" to match English source technical reference.

903147	Perbarui Dochead FTaxAmt	Update Dochead FTaxAmt	Perbarui Dochead FTaxAmt	Correct. Retained table and field names exactly.
903153	Perbaiki id baris transaksi	Correct Transact line id	Perbaiki id baris Transact	Retained "Transact" and applied sentence case to the string.
903102	Sysvars	Sysvars	Sysvars	Correct. Retained technical table name.
903167	Rerun Patch X	Rerun Patch X	Jalankan ulang Patch X	Translated "Rerun" for clarity while keeping the technical "Patch X".
903168	Reset Sysvars	Reset Sysvars	Reset Sysvars	Correct. Retained for technical consistency.

ID 903154 - UI constraint

I have reviewed the entry for ID 903154. To meet the Indonesian market requirements and the specific UI length constraints while maintaining sentence case, I have prepared the following translation.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
903154	Perbaiki jumlah pajak termasuk/tidak termasuk (Bug terbalik)	Correct Incl./Excl. Tax amount (Reverse bug)	Perbaiki jumlah pajak Term./Eks. (Bug terbalik)	Used "Term./Eks." as abbreviations for "Termasuk/Eksklusif" to match the length of the English source "Incl./Excl." for UI constraints.

ID 903167 - UI constraint

To adhere strictly to the UI constraints and your instruction to revert technical or patch-related strings back to the English source for advanced users, I have adjusted ID 903167 accordingly.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
903167	Rerun Patch X	Rerun Patch X	Rerun Patch X	Reverted to English source to meet UI constraints and technical naming conventions.

More Advanced UI Constraints

I have optimized these translations to satisfy UI constraints by using concise terminology and abbreviations where necessary, while ensuring technical terms like BOM, BatCon, and Transact are retained for advanced users.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
903119	Hapus grup yang tidak ada dalam stok	Remove groups not in stock	Hapus grup tidak di stok	Shortened for UI constraints by removing filler words.
903122	Hapus dari BOM yang bukan BOM	Remove from BOM which is not BOM	Hapus dari BOM bukan BOM	Condensed to match English source length and retain technical terms.
903129	Konsolidasikan tahun yang ditutup	Consolidate closed years	Konsolidasi thn ditutup	Used "thn" (tahun) abbreviation to fit UI space.
903158	Hapus BatCon yang tidak ada di Transact	Remove BatCon not in Transact	Hapus BatCon tidak di Transact	Retained technical table names and shortened for UI constraints.

Reviews/Corrections - Special formatting

Reviews/Corrections - Special formatting

Special formats - Pipe character and asterisks

For system dialogs and file handlers, the pipe character (|) and the file extension patterns are critical technical separators that must not be translated or omitted, as they control how the operating system filters files.

I have corrected ID 20123 to match the English source format exactly, ensuring the pipe character is preserved.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
20123	Filter (.flt)	Filter (.flt) .flt	Filter (.flt) *.flt	Technical constraint.

Preserved the pipe character and extension pattern for system dialog functionality.

Key Rules for Technical Symbols in Indonesian (id-ID):

- The Pipe (|): Never translate or remove; it acts as a functional separator for the OS.
- File Extensions: Extensions like *.flt, *.txt, or *.csv remain in English.
- Parentheses: Ensure space and content inside parentheses match the logic of the source.

Special formats - "Quotes"

I have reviewed the special formatting for quotes in these IDs. I have ensured that the Indonesian translations exactly match the quotation marks (double " and single ') used in the English source. I have also restored the full text for clarity in the messages and maintained the uppercase emphasis where it appeared in the source.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
1122	"Nama Harga",Nilai	"Price Name",Value	"Nama harga",Nilai	Corrected to sentence case inside the quotes.
2808	'Mengharapkan " atau ''	Expected " or '	Mengharapkan " atau '	Matched the quotes exactly to the English source.

Do you wish to continue?	Tindakan ini akan menyesuaikan tanggal remitansi terakhir pada debitur	Correct. Full text provided with "terpilih"! Apakah Anda ingin melanjutkan?
3536	Tindakan ini akan menyesuaikan tanggal remitansi terakhir pada "SEMUA" debitur	This action will adjust the last date remittance at the "ALL VISIBLE" debtors! yang terlihat!	TERLIHAT" debitur!
Apakah Anda ingin wish to continue? melanjutkan?	Apakah Anda ingin melanjutkan?

Menu paths - Unnecessary double and single quotes

I have corrected these menu paths to ensure they strictly follow the formatting of the English source. I have removed the unnecessary double quotes (' ') and replaced them with single quotes (') for menu navigation as per your instruction.

I have also ensured that "Setup" is translated to "Persiapan" consistently where it appears as a menu item in Indonesian, and kept the full text for clarity.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
696	'Nomor berikutnya tidak valid! Ubah di "Persiapan → Persiapan dokumen"!'	Invalid next number! Change it in 'Setup → Documents setup'!	Nomor berikutnya tidak valid! Ubah di 'Persiapan → Persiapan dokumen'!	Removed unnecessary surrounding and double quotes; used single quotes for menu path.

UI Formatting Note

For menu paths in Indonesian localization:

- Setup = Persiapan
- Single Quote (') = Used to wrap the menu string.

Dutch Belgium markets

I have corrected the entries for IDs 3410 and 3438. Per your instructions, these will retain their English source names to accurately reflect that they are specific to the Dutch and Belgian markets and use their respective tax systems (like BTW) rather than the Indonesian PPN.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
3410	Plugin pajak Belanda	Dutch Tax plugin	Dutch Tax plugin	Reverted to English source as it is specific to the Dutch market.

Reviews/Corrections - Sentence case

Reviews/Corrections - Sentence case

The Correction Logic Applied:

1. Multiple Sentences: If a string contains more than one sentence, the first letter after a period (.), exclamation mark (!), or question mark (?) is now capitalized.
2. The "anda" Rule: Following your specific project instructions, the word "anda" (you/your) is always lowercase, unless it happens to be the very first word of a sentence.
3. Proper Nouns: Terms like PPN, POS, HTML, SQL, PDF, and <@APPNAME@> remain capitalized as technical proper nouns.
4. UI Consistency: I have ensured "Kumpulan buku" is used for "Set of Books" and "Tanda terima" for "Receipts".

Filter options 'is'

For Indonesian, the professional equivalent of the filter "is" can be translated as "adalah" or "merupakan", but "adalah" is the standard for software parameters. I have also corrected "is not nul" to "bukan null", as "bukan" is the grammatically correct Indonesian negation for a noun/state like "null".

Reviews/Corrections - Ampersand '&' shortcut keys corrected

That is an excellent catch. In a dropdown menu or list, every shortcut (access key) must be unique to function correctly; otherwise, the focus will just jump between the items rather than selecting them.

I have updated the access keys to ensure they are unique across these four items. I used 'r', 'a', 't', and 'k' respectively.

Corrected to include the full translation of the instruction. Previously, the translation was truncated and missing the critical guidance regarding the filter buttons and search refinement.

I have ensured that the Indonesian version provides the complete technical explanation found in the English source.

Now includes the instructions for specific type buttons and search refinement for clarity.

UI and Message Clarity Check

For long instructional strings like ID 1211, I will ensure that:

- The "Check" action is translated as "Centang" (standard for checkboxes/buttons).
- The "Refine" action is translated as "Menyempurnakan" to provide a professional feel for the search function.
- Full context is maintained so the user knows exactly how to interact with the search UI.

Reviews/Corrections - Search related translations - UI constraints

To handle the UI constraints for field labels and buttons, I have used the concise "Cari per" or "Cari" format. For the requested messages (1211 and 3276), I have restored the full text for absolute clarity, using strict sentence case (lowercase "anda").

Key UI Decisions:

- Preposition "by": Standardized to "per" for all labels to save space while maintaining the logical link.
- Capitalization: Applied strict sentence case. Even after a period within a string (IDs 1211 and 3276), the first word is lowercase to follow the software's specific case rule, and "anda" is lowercase.
- Clarity: Messages 1211 and 3276 contain no abbreviations or truncations to ensure the user understands the complex search logic.

Reviews/Corrections - UI constraints

UI constraints

ID 3088

I have adjusted ID 3088 to accommodate the UI constraint for a checkbox item. By removing the verb "Gunakan" (Use), the label becomes more concise while remaining professionally accurate.

ID	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
3088	Use barcode printer	Pencetak kode batang	UI constraint. Shortened for checkbox display by removing the verb "Gunakan".

Comparison of Hardware vs. Action for ID 3088

Because this is a checkbox for a specific device, using Pencetak kode batang clearly indicates that the setting applies to that hardware without needing the extra word "Gunakan".

ID 548

To accommodate the UI constraint (likely limited horizontal space in a wizard or header), we should remove the introductory phrase and focus on the core action.

ID	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
548	Let <@APPNAME@> help you to create a Set of Books	Buat kumpulan buku dengan <@APPNAME@>	UI constraint. Shortened by focusing on the action while maintaining the professional "Kumpulan buku" term.

UI Optimization

By changing "Biarkan <@APPNAME@> membantu anda membuat..." (Let <@APPNAME@> help you create...) to "Buat kumpulan buku dengan..." (Create set of books with...), we significantly reduce the character count without losing the meaning or the professional tone.

ID 2962

To meet the UI constraint for a checkbox or toggle, we should use a shorter, more direct term. In Indonesian professional software, "Abaikan" (Ignore/Suppress) or "Tanpa" (Without) is often used for suppression to save space while remaining clear.

ID	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
2962	Suppress open item	Abaikan item terbuka	UI constraint. Used "Abaikan" (Ignore/Suppress) to keep the label short and professional for a checkbox.

UI Optimization

While "Sembunyikan" (Hide) is accurate, "Abaikan" is a standard professional term for "Suppressing" a process or validation in financial software. It fits better in tight UI spaces where a single word needs to convey that a specific logic is being bypassed.

Reviews/Corrections - Set of Books - Consistency

To ensure professional accounting consistency in Indonesian (id-ID), the term "Set of Books" should be translated as "Kumpulan Buku". While "Set buku" is a literal translation, "Kumpulan Buku" is the formal term used in Indonesian financial systems to describe a complete set of accounting records.

Reviews/Corrections - Default/Standar - Consistency

In formal/professional Indonesian accounting software, "Default" is considered a loanword. While it is widely understood in IT, the professional formal term used in Indonesian ERP and financial systems is "Standar".

Using "Standar" (standard) conveys a more polished, professional tone compared to the technical loanword. I have updated the list below to reflect this, ensuring full text, strict sentence case, and Pencetak (where applicable) are maintained.

Mengonversi vs Konversi inconsistencies

You are absolutely right to point this out. I have cross-referenced the database, and "Konversi" is indeed used as the standard term for "Convert" (both as a noun and a verb) across the system to maintain consistency and conciseness in the UI.

To align ID 569 with the other 27 translations you mentioned, we should use the root word "Konversi" instead of the formal prefix version.

Reviews/Corrections - VAT / PPN translations

I have reviewed the Tax (VAT/PPN) related terminology for Indonesian (id-ID).

In Indonesia, "Tax" in an accounting context almost always refers to PPN (Pajak Pertambahan Nilai). I have standardized the translations to ensure professional consistency, corrected the casing for "anda", and expanded all abbreviations (such as "Jml", "Ref", "Jurnal", etc.) to full text as requested.

OLDER - Reviews/Corrections - VAT / PPN translations

In Indonesia, PPN (Pajak Pertambahan Nilai) is the direct and standard equivalent for VAT. Using PPN is highly beneficial for the Indonesian market as it is the term used in all official tax invoices (Faktur Pajak), accounting software, and government regulations.

I have updated the relevant IDs from the previous list to use PPN, which also significantly helps with UI constraints as it is much shorter than "Pajak".

ID	Original Indonesian (id- ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
219	Pajak masukan	Input tax	PPN masukan	Standard Indonesian accounting term for Input VAT.

220	Pajak keluaran	Output tax	PPN keluaran	Standard Indonesian accounting term for Output VAT.
750	No. faktur pajak	Tax Invoice no.	No. faktur PPN	Shorter and more specific to the Indonesian "Faktur PPN".
1135	Registrasi pajak	TAX registration	Registrasi PPN	Replaced general "Pajak" with "PPN" for VAT registration.
2037	FAKTUR PAJAK	TAX INVOICE	FAKTUR PPN	Matches the official Indonesian tax document title.
2043	JML-PAJAK	TAX-AMT	JML-PPN	Concise for narrow UI columns/reports.
2051	*Menunjukkan item bebas pajak	*Indicates non-TAX item	*Menunjukkan item non-PPN	Professional and technical.
3410	Plugin pajak Belanda	Dutch Tax plugin	Dutch Tax plugin	KEEP name for the Dutch Plugin While specific to the NL, "PPN" clarifies it's for VAT.
906014	Faktur pajak POS	POS Tax Invoice	Faktur PPN POS	Shortened for POS receipt headers.
906248	Faktur Tanpa Pajak (tanpa kode)	Invoice No Tax (no codes)	Faktur tanpa PPN (tanpa kode)	Improved clarity for the user.
906265	Laporan pajak	Tax report	Laporan PPN	Specific to VAT/GST reporting.

When to keep "Pajak" vs. "PPN":

- Use PPN: When the English source refers to VAT, Input/Output tax, or specific Tax Invoices.
- Use Pajak: When the context is broad (e.g., "Tax and company registration") or refers to other types of taxes like Income Tax (PPH) or Land/Building Tax (PBB).

Reviews/Corrections - Batch vs Journal

Reviews/Corrections - Batch vs Journal

Reviews/Corrections - Batch vs Journal Incorrect in Stock (inventory module)

You are absolutely right. In a stock or inventory context, "Batch" refers to a specific group of products (often with a shared production or expiry date) and should never be translated as "Jurnal" (which is an accounting record of transactions).

I have corrected these to use Batch (which is the accepted technical term in Indonesian inventory management) to ensure clarity for warehouse and stock users.

ID	Indonesia original	English source	Indonesia corrected	Notes/Rationale
3398	Lokasi-Seri-Batch	Location-Serials-Batches	Lokasi-Seri-Batch	Correct
3683	Batch	Batch	Batch	Correct
906554	Jurnal kedaluwarsa	Outdated batch	Batch kedaluwarsa	Changed "Jurnal" to "Batch" as it refers to outdated stock groups, not accounting entries.
906555	Jurnal dibeli dari pemasok	Batch bought from supplier	Batch dibeli dari pemasok	Changed "Jurnal" to "Batch" to correctly reflect inventory lot tracking.
906556	Jurnal dijual ke pelanggan	Batch sold to customer	Batch dijual ke pelanggan	Changed "Jurnal" to "Batch" to correctly reflect inventory lot tracking.

Terminology Distinction for id-ID:

- Batch (Stock/Inventory) Batch
- Journal (Accounting/Ledger) Jurnal

Why not "Lot"?

- Lot: Occasionally used in real estate (kaveling) or auction contexts, but rarely in inventory software in Indonesia.
- Batch: Standard for pharmaceutical, food, and manufacturing software in Indonesia to track production runs.

Conclusion: Please stick with Batch for Indonesian. It is technically accurate and avoids the "Jurnal" (accounting) vs. "Batch" (stock) confusion you identified.

Reviews/Corrections - Journal terminology for Indonesian (id-ID)

As we established in the Stock review, "Jurnal" is strictly used for accounting records (ledger entries). I have expanded all abbreviations like "No." to "Nomor" and ensured that "anda" is lowercase. I also standardized technical symbols like "(D<-->C)" to the Indonesian equivalent "(D<-->K)" representing Debet and Kredit.

Posting terminology again to resolve the confusion between Terposting (state/status) and Diposting (action/passive verb).

In Indonesian accounting software:

- Terposting: Best used as a standalone status or a concise label (e.g., in a table column).
- Diposting: Used when describing the action performed on an object (e.g., "Jurnal yang diposting" or "Belum diposting").

I have standardized the list below, ensuring "Unposted" is consistently "Belum diposting" rather than "Belum terposting," as this is the industry standard.

Reviews/Corrections - Client vs Debtor - Indonesia (id-ID)

You are correct: Klien is the appropriate term for technical IT contexts (client-server, client-side), whereas Debitur (or Pelanggan) is the standard term for accounting and document processing in Indonesia. For document-related IDs (2294, 2880, 3739), I have changed "Klien" to "Debitur" to match the accounting module terminology.

22082	Gabungan dataset sisi klien	Dataset client side unions	Gabungan dataset sisi klien	Correct. Refers to technical database/IT processing.

Terminology Guide:

- Technical/IT context: Keep as Klien (e.g., Client-side, Client-server).
- Accounting/Financial context: Use Debitur (for English "Debtors" or "Clients" when referring to invoice recipients).

Reviews/Corrections - Debtor

In this review, I have maintained the word "Debitur" as the standard accounting term. I have expanded all abbreviations (such as "D/K" to "Debet/Kredit", "reg." to "registrasi", and "Jml" to "Jumlah") to fulfill the full text requirement. Additionally, I have corrected the casing for "anda" and addressed several IDs that combined Debtor and Creditor terms to ensure consistency.

UI Constraints

In localized software, expanding every abbreviation to full prose can often "break" the UI by making text too long for buttons, columns, or menus.

I have reverted these specific IDs to use standard Indonesian accounting abbreviations D/K and more concise phrasing that stays within typical UI boundaries while remaining professional.

ID	Indonesia original	English source	Indonesia corrected	Notes/Rationale
3167	Saldo kolom debitur D/K	Column balances debtors D/C	Saldo kolom debitur D/K	Reverted. Kept "D/K" (Debet/Kredit) to prevent UI overflow in report columns.
3224	Folder basis debitur/kreditur	Base folder debtor/creditor	Folder basis debitur/kreditur	Reverted. Retained the slash to keep the file path description concise for the UI.

903135	Hapus debitur tidak di akun	Remove debtors not in account	Hapus debitur tidak di akun	Reverted. The original is clear enough for a menu item and prevents truncation.
903151	Tautkan otomatis semua debitur nol	Auto-link all zero debtors	Tautkan otomatis debitur nol	Refined. Removed "semua" to save space while keeping the instruction clear.

UI Constraint Guidelines for id-ID:

- D/C D/K (Debet/Kredit) is the standard short-form.
- Ubah is shorter than Edit data and fits buttons better.
- No. is the standard abbreviation for Nomor.

Reviews/Corrections - Creditor related terminology for Indonesian (id-ID)

The primary correction was standardizing "Kreditor" to "Kreditur", which is the more common and professional spelling in Indonesian accounting. I have also ensured that "anda" is lowercase and that abbreviations like "D/K" and the slash symbol "/" are preserved to meet the UI constraints we previously established.

Reviews/Corrections - Supplier (Pemasok) and Supplier

Return (Retur Pemasok)

In this review, I have maintained the industry-standard term "Pemasok" for Supplier. I have also ensured that UI constraints are respected by retaining the "No." abbreviation and the "/" symbol. Following our previous correction, I have kept "Batch" for inventory lots and ensured "anda" remains lowercase for a professional, neutral tone.

Reviews/Corrections - Stock/Inventory related terminology for Indonesian (id-ID)

In Indonesian business contexts, "Stok" is the standard term for inventory. I have focused on standardizing the terms for "Stock Take-on" (recording initial inventory) and "Stock Count" (physical verification/opname). I have also ensured consistency with your UI constraints (retaining "No." and "/") and corrected capitalization for the word "anda".

Reviews/Corrections - Document types - Indonesia

In Indonesian professional accounting, document names are typically used as singular forms even when the context implies plural (as Indonesian often uses context or reduplication to show plurality). In a software UI, the singular form is the standard for menus and headers.

Here are the professional translations for osFinancials document types in Indonesia (id-ID):

Sales Documents (Dokumen Penjualan)

English Term	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
Invoice	Faktur	The standard commercial and tax term.
Credit note	Nota kredit	Standard accounting term for sales reversals.
Quote	Penawaran	Short for "Penawaran Harga" (Price Quotation).
Delivery note	Surat jalan	The official legal/logistical term for delivery documents.

Purchase Documents (Dokumen Pembelian)

English Term	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
Purchase	Pembelian	Used for Purchase Invoices/Faktur Pembelian.

Supplier return	Retur pemasok	Also known as "Nota Debit" in some contexts, but "Retur pemasok" is clearer.
Order	Pesanan	Short for "Pesanan Pembelian" (Purchase Order).

Plurality and UI Constraints

In Indonesian, if you must explicitly indicate plurality (e.g., in a report title), you would add the word "Daftar" (List of) or "Data" rather than repeating the word (e.g., Faktur-faktur).

- Example (Plural): "Invoices" "Daftar faktur" or simply "Faktur".

Integration with "Types Table"

Ref: User Instruction [2025-08-07] have reviewed the "Types table" based on these selections. If you decide to change "Quote" to "Quotation" or "Order" to "Purchase Order" in the system's core types, please let me know so I can update the corresponding language file entries to maintain consistency across the UI.

Document types - Singular / Plural

That is a very important distinction for clear UI navigation. In Indonesian, we handle this by using the base noun for Singular (specific actions) and adding a descriptive prefix like "Daftar" (List) or "Data" for Plural (referring to the entire collection/module).

Here are the recommended translations for both contexts in Indonesia (id-ID):

Sales Documents (Dokumen Penjualan)

Document Type	Singular (Printing/Filter)	Plural (All Documents/Module)
Invoice	Faktur	Daftar faktur
Credit note	Nota kredit	Daftar nota kredit
Quote	Penawaran	Daftar penawaran
Delivery note	Surat jalan	Daftar surat jalan

Purchase Documents (Dokumen Pembelian)

Document Type	Singular (Printing/Filter)	Plural (All Documents/Module)
Purchase	Pembelian	Daftar pembelian
Supplier return	Retur pemasok	Daftar retur pemasok
Order	Pesanan	Daftar pesanan

Implementation Guidelines:

- Singular (Context: "Print Invoice", "Filter by Quote"): We use the direct name: Cetak faktur, Filter per penawaran. This is concise and fits UI constraints.
- Plural (Context: "View all Invoices", "Invoices Module"): We use "Daftar" (List). In Indonesian software, simply repeating the word (e.g., Faktur-faktur) is considered informal and cluttered. "Daftar faktur" is the professional way to indicate the plural collection of those documents.
- Special Case (Delivery Note): While "Nota pengiriman" exists, "Surat jalan" is the legally required term in Indonesia for the document accompanying goods in transit.

Note on Saved Info [2025-08-07]: If these document type names are updated in your 'Types table', I will ensure the language file is updated to match these specific Singular/Plural conventions.

Reviews/Corrections - Invoice

As per your instructions, I have used full text without any truncation or ellipses. I have ensured that the Indonesian lowercase "anda" rule is followed and that strict sentence case is applied throughout. Note that for Indonesian accounting, "Faktur" (Singular) is used even when the English source is plural (e.g., "Invoices"), as Indonesian typically uses context to define plurality in a UI.

Reviews/Corrections - Delivery note

Reviews/Corrections - Delivery note

As noted in our previous discussion regarding document types, the legally and commercially correct term for a Delivery Note in Indonesia is Surat jalan. While "Nota pengiriman" is a literal translation, it is rarely used in professional logistics or accounting software in Indonesia. I have standardized all entries to use Surat jalan for consistency and professional accuracy.

ID	Indonesia original	English source	Indonesia corrected	Notes/Rationale
54	Cetak &surat jalan	Print &delivery notes	Cetak &surat jalan	Correct
1086	Opsi nota pengiriman	Delivery note options	Opsi surat jalan	Changed "nota pengiriman" to "surat jalan" for professional consistency.
1150	Nota pengiriman diterima	Delivery note accepted	Surat jalan diterima	Changed "nota pengiriman" to "surat jalan" for professional consistency.

1313	Nota pengiriman	Delivery note	Surat jalan	Changed "nota pengiriman" to "surat jalan" for professional consistency.
906181	Surat jalan (tanpa kode)	Delivery note (no codes)	Surat jalan (tanpa kode)	Correct
906182	Surat jalan (kode-15)	Delivery note (15 code)	Surat jalan (kode-15)	Correct

Terminology Consistency Check:

By using Surat jalan, the software aligns with Indonesian transport regulations, where this specific document is required for moving goods. Using "Nota pengiriman" might confuse users as it sounds like a generic shipping notice rather than the official document.

Reviews/Corrections - Graphs

Reviews/Corrections - Graphs

Following our agreement on singular vs. plural document types, I have standardized the terms (e.g., Faktur, Nota kredit, Retur pemasok, Penawaran, Pesanan). I have also applied the plural Daftar grafik for the general "Graphs" category to distinguish it from a singular graph.

Per your requirement for professional accounting terminology, I have used Jumlah for "Amount" and Kuantitas for "Quantities."

Reviews/Corrections - BOM (Bill of Materials)

Reviews/Corrections - BOM (Bill of Materials)

I have reviewed the common BOM (Bill of Materials) terminology for the Indonesian market. In Indonesia, "Bill of Materials" is frequently translated as "Daftar Kebutuhan Material" or "Daftar Komponen", but in technical and ERP software contexts, the acronym BOM is almost always retained to avoid confusion for advanced users and to fit within narrow UI fields.

Based on our previous logic regarding technical table names and UI constraints, here is a suggested review of BOM-related IDs:

You are absolutely right. Since BOM (Bill of Materials) is a technical acronym, it must remain in UPPERCASE even when applying sentence case to the rest of the string.

I have corrected the table below to reflect this, ensuring that while the sentences start with a capital letter, the acronym BOM is preserved in all caps to maintain professional standards and technical clarity.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
2920	BOM	BOM	BOM	Correct. Retained uppercase for acronym.
2923	Daftar BOM	BOM list	Daftar BOM	Corrected to sentence case for the label, kept BOM in uppercase.
3266	BOM (Produksi)	BOM (Production)	BOM (Produksi)	Corrected to sentence case for the bracketed term.
3301	Hitung stok BOM	Calculate BOM stock	Hitung stok BOM	Corrected to sentence case; kept acronym uppercase.
903122	Hapus dari BOM yang bukan BOM	Remove from BOM which is not BOM	Hapus dari BOM yang bukan BOM	NO UI constraints while keeping acronyms in uppercase.

Technical Note on Acronyms

In Indonesian localization (id-ID), acronyms like BOM, ID, VAT, or PPN are always kept in uppercase to distinguish them from regular words. This is especially important for BOM, as "bom" in Indonesian literally means "bomb," so keeping it uppercase is vital to avoid any misunderstanding.

Key Localization Considerations for BOM in Indonesia:

- Batch vs. Jurnal: As noted in your English Master file (ID 1000000), "Batch" should be translated as "Jurnal" even in a production/BOM context if that is the system's nomenclature.
- Component: Often translated as "Komponen" or "Bahan Baku" (Raw Materials). For UI constraints, "Komponen" is preferred.
- Assembly: Usually translated as "Perakitan".

ID 906121 – Mistranslation correction

I apologize for the confusion. I see the error in my previous response where I incorrectly matched the ID 903121 to a BOM-related English source. You are absolutely correct: 903121 refers to Generate stock per ledger, which is a general stock and accounting function, not restricted to BOM.

I have corrected the record below to ensure the Indonesian translation matches the English source "Generate stock per ledger" while adhering to your UI constraints and sentence case requirements.

ID	Original Indonesian (id-ID)	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale
903121	Buat stok per buku besar	Generate stock per ledger	Buat stok per buku besar	Correct. Matches English source. "Buku besar" is the standard term for Ledger.

Since this is applicable to all stock items, I have kept the full text as requested for clarity. Quote from incorrect response:

"903121 | Buat stok per buku besar | Check BOM levels | Periksa level BOM | Corrected mistranslation..."

Correction: This was a mapping error. The English source provided for 903121 is "Generate stock per ledger."

Reviews/Corrections - Open item processing

In Indonesian accounting standards (Standard Akuntansi Keuangan), the term "Open item" refers to transactions that have not yet been settled or matched (unpaid invoices vs. payments). The professional term for this is "Item Belum Lunas" or "Pos Terbuka".

However, in the context of system settings and account types, "Item Terbuka" is the widely accepted professional translation for "Open Item Processing". I have reviewed and corrected the list to ensure full text, strict sentence case, and consistency for "Relink" (Tautkan ulang) and "Outstanding" (Belum lunas).

Reviews/Corrections - Budget terminology

Reviews/Corrections - Budget terminology

I have reviewed the Budget translations for Indonesian (id-ID). The standard professional term is Anggaran.

For reporting and performance analysis, Indonesian accounting often uses Realisasi (Realization) to describe "Actuals," which I have standardized where appropriate.

I have ensured full text, strict sentence case (lowercase "anda"), and consistent terminology.

Reviews/Corrections - Spreadsheet

Reviews/Corrections - Spreadsheet

In Indonesian professional and technical contexts, the term "Spreadsheet" is widely accepted as a loanword, much like "Internet" or "Email." However, professional accounting and office suites (like Microsoft Excel or LibreOffice) officially use the term "Lembar Sebar".

To maintain a professional, formal accounting tone while remaining consistent with global office apps, I have standardized these translations. I have also replaced the word "Berkas" (File) with "File" where it aligns better with modern Indonesian IT usage, or kept it where a formal tone is required, ensuring full text and strict sentence case.

ID	English source	Indonesian (id-ID)	Notes/Rationale

3698	Spreadsheet reports	Laporan lembar sebar	Professional reporting term.

Terminology Key:

- Spreadsheet = Lembar Sebar (Official formal Indonesian).
- File = File (Commonly used in Indonesian IT) or Berkas (Strictly formal). I have used File here for better flow with "Lembar sebar."
